King Ceasor University Moot Team Shines in FIAE Competition

King Ceasor University's moot court team delivered a commendable performance in the FIAE International Moot Competition, emerging among the top 16 teams from a competitive field of 48 universities across Africa.

Representing the University were Arinda Catherine and Ainebyoona Patricia as Student Mooters under the guidance of Moot Coach Mr. Busingye Keith.

Although the team's journey ended at the National Online Rounds, their participation reflected strong advocacy, legal research and teamwork, while proudly representing the University on the continental stage.

King Ceasor University Showcases Innovation at Oil & Gas Skills Expo 2026

The Department of Petroleum Geoscience at King Ceasor University participated in the 3rd Oil & Gas Skills Expo 2026 held at Makerere University under the theme: "From Oil and Gas to the Wider Economy: Transferable Skills Driving Sustainable Growth."

During the two-day expo, the department showcased Aqua Clean, an innovation highlighting the university's commitment to research, sustainability and practical solutions for Uganda's energy sector.

Day One featured insightful discussions led by Prof. Augustine Osamor Ifelebuegu, Ms. Tusiime Grace and Mr. Ernest Rubondo, who emphasized workforce readiness, transferable skills, innovation and sustainable growth within Uganda's petroleum industry. On Day Two, the university was honored to host Ms. Allen Kagina, Chairperson of the TVET Council of Uganda, at its exhibition stall.

The expo provided a valuable platform for engagement on innovation, workforce readiness and skills development shaping Uganda's future economy.
